UCITS 2022 WEBINAR SERIES

Webinars to keep you up to speed with key UCITS market developments

After a well-deserved summer break, it's time to continue the UCITS 2022 webinar series.

A number of significant changes are impacting the UCITS market from a legal, tax, regulatory and operational perspective.

We invite you to tune into our UCITS 2022 webinar series, in which our team of subject-matter experts will give insightful updates and practical advice on a number of key topics.

NEXT TOPIC

The fifth episode of our UCITS 2022 webinar series will combine regulatory insight with a practical approach in order to address different aspects of UCITS liquidity risk management – from performing proper assessments to implementing mitigation techniques. The speakers will discuss the liquidity risk assessment for both the asset and the liability sides, including practical examples. They will emphasise how stress tests should be integrated into the UCITS liquidity risk management framework, in line with ESMA Guidelines. Finally, the speakers will review the risk mitigation techniques that investment fund managers can implement using liquidity management tools (LMTs), with a particular focus on side pocketing as prescribed by the CSSF early this year in the wake of the Ukraine-Russia crisis.
