

Jan Neugebauer

Introduction

Jan Neugebauer is a Partner in the Tax Law practice, with a specialisation in the realms of national and international tax structuring and tax litigation for a diverse range of clients, including private investment funds and multinationals. His areas of expertise are notably in sectors like private equity, secondaries, and debt funds, where he provides comprehensive advice on fund structuring as well as transactions that include leveraged buyouts, restructurings as well as intricate finance transactions.

Financial institutions also benefit from Jan's expertise, particularly in navigating the complex requirements of compliance with international information exchange regulations, including FATCA and CRS. His profound understanding of the tax domain, combined with his international outlook and academic involvement ensure strategic and nuanced tax solutions from tax advisory to tax litigation.

Additionally, Jan contributes to the academic field as a lecturer on international taxation at the University of Luxembourg and by regularly speaking at conferences and contributing to publications on domestic and international tax matters.

Education

- Jan Neugebauer is a German qualified lawyer and holds a Master of Laws degree (LL.M.) in comparative law from the California Western School of Law, San Diego (USA).
- He has been a member of the Frankfurt Bar (Germany) since 2005 and of the Luxembourg Bar since 2006

Memberships

- He is a member of the International Fiscal Association and serves on the tax committees of the Luxembourg private equity association (LPEA) and bankers association (ABBL).
