

Lorraine Chéry

Introduction

Lorraine Chéry is a Counsel in the Employment Law practice of Arendt & Medernach. She specialises in employment and social security matters.

Education

- Bar exam in 2009
- CCDL, in 2009 (University of Luxembourg)
- Master 2 in Employment law, social security (Strasbourg, France)

Previous experience

Experience of 12 years in a niche law firm specialized in employment law which provides advice to employers on the rights of their employees worldwide. During this experience I particularly dealt with issues related to individual termination, sickness, social security and helped clients to reach settlement. I have acquired solid experience in litigation by representing employers in a large number of cases before the labour courts. I took part of the development of the knowledge management of the law firm and has written numerous articles on employment law.

Memberships

- Member of ELSA (Employment Law Specialists Association) since 2011 and EELA (European Employment Lawyers Association) since 2023
