Rémi Kirsch

Introduction

Rémi Kirsch is one of the Conducting Officers at AManco , where he serves as Head of Risk Management.

He has an extensive investment fund experience, in particular from his previous position as Deputy Head of Risk Management with a UCITS management company and alternative investment fund manager.

Rémi has built a strong specialisation in alternative investment funds (Private Equity, Real Estate and Private Debt) while acquiring a broad expertise across risk management and valuation activities.

Education

- Rémi holds a master's degree in International Finance from the IAE Metz School of Management (France)

Previous experience

Rémi began his career in Luxembourg as a Risk & Performance Analyst in the investment fund sector. During that time, he was in charge of monitoring and analysing of financial funds, and also worked extensively in performance and contribution analysis.

He has been a tenured lecturer for graduate-level Financial Analysis at the University of Lorraine since 2013.
