Michael Lecci

Introduction

He assists clients with the formation, setting up and organisation of regulated and non-regulated alternative investment funds (AIFs) in connection with different types of alternative assets, including private equity, real estate, debt, and venture capital. He also advises alternative investment fund managers (AIFMs) and sponsors on numerous issues, such as governance and compliance.

From May 2022 to March 2023, he was seconded to Arendt & Medernach’s London office, where he advised clients on Luxembourg legal and regulatory matters.

Education

- He graduated from the Università dei Salento (Italy) in 2017 and from its School of Advanced Studies (ISUFI) in 2019.
- After his studies, he was awarded the D. Menichella scholarship, which is granted by the Bank of Italy to young researchers.
- Following that, in 2020, he completed an LL.M. in Finance from the Institute for Law and Finance at Goethe University Frankfurt (Germany).
- He is a member of the Lecce Bar (Italy) and the Luxembourg Bar.

Previous experience

He joined Arendt & Medernach in 2020. Prior to that, he worked for an Italian law firm, where he advised clients on banking, finance and corporate issues and provided assistance to clients in court proceedings. He also has previous experiences worked in the regulatory division of the Bank of Italy and in the supervisory law division (legal department) of the European Central Bank.

Memberships

- He is the co-founder and member of the “Diritto del Risparmio” editorial committee.
