Lorraine Chéry

Introduction

Lorraine Chéry is a Counsel in the Employment Law, Pensions & Benefits practice of Arendt & Medernach. Her specific expertise is in employment law and social security.

Education

- Lorraine passed the Bar in 2009.
- In 2009, she earned her CCDL (supplementary courses on Luxembourg law) from the University of Luxembourg (Luxembourg).
- She has a Master's 2 in Employment Law and Social Security from the University of Strasbourg (France).

Memberships

- She has been a member of ELSA (the Luxembourg Employment Law Specialists Association) since 2011 and EELA (European Employment Lawyers Association) since 2023.

Previous Experience

- Before joining Arendt & Medernach, Lorraine had 12 years of experience working in a boutique law firm specialising in employment law that provided advice to employers on the rights of their employees worldwide.
- In this role, she dealt in particular with issues related to individual termination, sickness, social security and helped clients to reach settlement. She acquired solid experience in litigation by representing employers in a large number of cases before the labour courts. In addition, she contributed to developing knowledge management in the firm and has written numerous articles on employment law.
